Vincent Jannin – January 27th, 2025

As Treasurer-Elect of the Controlled Release Society, I bring over 25 years of experience in pharmaceutical innovation, R&D leadership, and strategic planning to advance the society's financial health and enhance its mission of transforming lives through innovative delivery science and technology. Throughout my career, I have successfully led multidisciplinary teams, developed strategic plans, and managed complex projects, balancing financial stewardship with scientific progress. These experiences have prepared me to promote fiscal responsibility, transparency, and sustainable investments that empower CRS to achieve its long-term goals.

CRS has established itself as the premier platform for advancing drug delivery, biomaterials, and related sciences, and I am dedicated to upholding its values of collaboration, inclusivity, and scientific excellence. As Treasurer-Elect, I will work to ensure the society's financial strength and resilience, enabling it to adapt to evolving challenges and seize new opportunities. My vision is to position CRS for sustained innovation and growth, ensuring it continues to lead in shaping the future of controlled release and delivery science.

Together, we can build on CRS's legacy, fostering a vibrant, collaborative community that transforms cutting-edge research into impactful solutions for global health challenges. I am honored to contribute my experience, dedication, and strategic vision to this endeavor as Treasurer-Elect of the CRS Board of Directors.
